

August 2015

No BOUNDARIES FOR US

Help for the inexperienced traveler

FABULOUS FLORIDA Pg. 4

Senior travel issues Pg. 10

A DougBardwell.com Publication

Travel, tech, photography and more

September 2015

Hello readers,

Welcome to the September issue of No Boundaries for Us.

As the summer winds to a close and the children are returning to school, this is an excellent time to think about traveling. Temperatures are becoming more moderate and crowds are shrinking exponentially for the next couple months.

If you were considering a trip to Florida, September could be the ideal month to get away. Rooms should be plentiful and wait lines for attractions should be all but non-existent. Check out our feature on Florida this month for just a slice of all that you could be enjoying next month.

We are also looking at senior travel issues. Let us know if our article rings true with you, or the seniors in your life. It's nothing new to realize that seniors have many issues with traveling, but there are travel professionals out there that have answers for just about any issue that might concern you.

Continue to keep in touch and let us know what we are doing right or wrong. Blending some of our traditional travel, tech and photography, we hope we are giving you what you want. Next month, we'll probably be expanding our coverage even further, with more topics. We want this publication to be of value to you, our readers; so tell us what's on your mind.

Have a great month - and get up and go somewhere!

Doug

In This Issue:

FLORIDA Photo Gallery. . . . .Pg 4	Senior Travel Issues . . . .Pg 12

Wooster. . . . .Pg 16	The newest paddlewheeler.Pg 17	Good times in England . . Pg 18

Down under in Australia. . .Pg 20	Getta charge out of this. .Pg 21	Top shelf in Miami. . . . .Pg 22

Rethink the bus. . . . .Pg 23	Is there a doctor in . . . .Pg 24	Kickstarter cool. . . . .Pg 25

Florida

Catch a sunset over the Gulf of Mexico or here, over Sarasota Bay. Either way, it's bound to be memorable. With wide-open vistas, it'll make the perfect photo opportunity.

If you'd enjoy a leisurely morning or afternoon on a scenic lake - look no further than Myakka River State Park.

Myakka is a Florida State Park that is located nine miles east of I-75 in Sarasota County and portions of southeastern Manatee County.

Sea birds are plentiful and you'll find the obligatory crows swimming in the water if you look hard enough.

Marie Selby Botanical Gardens in Sarasota is an oasis of flowering beauty that shouldn't be missed. From their fabulous bromeliad and banzai collections, to the giant banyan trees, even the kids will be impressed.

Looking for the big bass? Lake Tohopekaliga (Lake Toho) holds some whoppers.

Looking for even bigger critters. Sign on to the Boggy Creek Airboat Rides and go moonlight spotting gators in the swamp. Don't fall out.

Ever driven 160 m.p.h. (and lived to talk about it?) It happens every-day at the Richard Petty Driving Experience. Ride along shotgun or attend drivers school and drive a NASCAR or other high performance car for three laps around the course. Souvenir videos from inside the car record it all...for a price.

Sunset on Lake Toho is a special place for fishing and birding. The largest inland lake in Osceola County, this is great for anyone who appreciates silky smooth waters.

Ready to try the #1 rated restaurant at a theme park for over 6 years? Check out Mythos at Universal Studios Islands of Adventure in Orlando. Cool interior design and great food.

Come meet “Ollie” an albino crocodile at Gatorland outside Kissimmee. Sign up for “Trainer for a Day” and get all types of special access. More alligators in one place than you could ever imagine. Zip lines over alligators? Sure, that’s a good idea isn’t it?

Overlooking Sarasota Bay, you'll find the Ringling Circus Museum. Here is just a small part of the Howard Bros. Circus model, consisting of some 44,000 pieces.

See full-sized circus wagons and even the famous circus train as you wander the multiple buildings making up this campus.

Beaches may be one of the main reasons people go to Florida. There certainly are enough of them and they are gorgeous.

This one above is in Longboat Key along the Gulf of Mexico. Quieter than many waterfront communities, Longboat Key is awash with fabulous dining opportunities along the Gulf and along Sarasota Bay.

Striped burrfish at the Mote Research Center and Aquarium

Seniors – we’re talking about your travel habits

Look at two senior citizens and they might look like they came from the same family. One has the time and the money to travel – but is afraid to travel. The other would love to travel, but has neither the money nor the time. There are answers for each if travel is something they would honestly like to do. Let’s explore some scenarios.

Rhonda Sand, owner of Living Passages in Coeur d’Alene, Idaho hears many questions and anxieties about travel from her senior customers.

“Often there are fears about ground transportation scams, proper hotel security, how much currency to carry on their person, and general political concerns in the countries they are visiting. Airport fears are also a hot topic with this demographic. With heightened security procedures and more and more buzz about airport and flight safety, there is inevitably anxiety about how to tackle the airport. Our agents do their best to give very detailed instructions about check-in, how-to pack carry-on bags, what to do at security checkpoints and what to do if flights are delayed.

We suggest that inexperienced seniors travel on a group trip with an experienced travel leader. Group travel is very popular for this demographic and can provide security and piece of mind. Tours, hotels and transportation will be planned in advance and this will alleviate a lot of stress once travelers arrive in a foreign country. We also give very detailed airport instructions and a detailed itinerary so that traveler in this demographic will feel at ease.”

Picking the right travel counselor or travel agent can be a game changer. Here’s another that seems to be doing it right.

“As a luxury, bespoke operator, we make sure the trip is perfectly tailored to the client,” says Heather Richardson, Marketing & Editorial Manager at Jacada Travel in London. “We won’t put someone with mobility issues in a hotel with hundreds of stairs - these details are part of the reason we personally check out all the hotels, lodges and camps we use.”

“Everything is planned, from the moment they step off the plane to the moment they get back on their return flight home. Transfers are all pre-arranged. It’s perfect for nervous, inexperienced travellers. This is part of the reasons older travellers are drawn to us.”

smarTours is celebrating its 20th anniversary in 2015 and has taken over 150,000 travelers to 40 different destinations around the world. Seeing seniors travel now more than ever, Co-CEO Greg Geronemus, tells about his experience with seniors on their trips to Europe, Asia, Africa, Latin America, Australia, New Zealand...and now, Cuba.

“Safety is the top concern among the senior population when traveling abroad, especially when you’re talking about less developed countries and countries with language barriers.”

“Escorted group tours absolutely make seniors feel safer and more secure in their travels. The support of an experienced tour guide and the feeling of safety in numbers with a group create a wonderful, low-stress travel experience for seniors. Also, when the tours are air-inclusive (as they are at smarTours), seniors love having everything taken care of for them -- from air to hotels to sightseeing.”

Overseas adventure travel sounds exciting and some seniors jump in without fully understanding what they might encounter.

“We are tour operators (not travel agents) and we arrange trips to Machu Picchu, Galapagos, Amazon jungle and Lake Titicaca plus a few more obscure places,” relates Jacquie Witt of Adios Adventure Travel “I do all the travel prep and we pay special attention to our senior travelers. They have surprised us on several occasions.”

“We treat them with respect and we do things like provide trekking poles when they arrive in Cusco. The streets are unbelievably bumpy, cobbled, irregular and may have broken curbs or holes. Fall prevention is a big concern.”

“Three star hotels usually don’t have elevators, grab bars or hand rails. And Machu Picchu is authentic as the Incas built it. With no guardrails, steep steps without hand rails and terraces that drop off. Our guides pay attention to these hazards and are prepared to modify their tours for older citizens who may not be able to climb to the top of the temple or the guardhouse.”

Margie Lieb Kurtz, CEO & Travel Consultant with Great Views Travel in Denver, Colorado has another solution for the senior traveler with trepidations. Cruising solves a myriad of problems.

“For inexperienced senior travelers I recommend a cruise (Ocean and River) regardless where they are thinking they want to go. There are cruises all around the world. I’d also recommend a complete tour. Both experiences offer a high level of hand holding to create comfort.

Cruising offers a contained ‘city’ with lots of activities within the ship and escorted tours.

Complete tours that cater to an older demographic are also the tours I would book. I target venues that will have other senior travelers or cater to seniors.

My company operates as travel consultants who provide concierge services. We handle every detail of the trip including helping them get all the necessary travel documents like passport, visas, etc. I also meet with the clients and provide helpful hints from what to expect on the trip, which includes common things to be aware of such as safety issues, etc. restaurants to try, etc. My concierges handle all the details of the trip to ease the stress and unfamiliarity and inexperience of the senior traveler and then review all the documents we prepare before their trip. We try our best to do this review in person.”

Then there’s Shirley, aged 64, living in Colorado.

“I am over 60, afraid to travel as am alone, and I don’t like to travel with a group of people I do NOT know.

Afraid of terrorists and where they may “lurk” just looking for a vulnerable senior citizen.

With rates at hotels being more expensive for a single person, I would like to travel with a responsible/honest/trustworthy person that I have met BEFORE the travel begins. I definitely would NOT travel via boat or train. They are way too slow and insecure.

If I were to be confident of the perfect travel experience, I would fly to Orlando, visit Disney and also look for a SAFE place to live there, preferably a SENIOR COMMUNITY, where I would also have access to an electric wheelchair 24x7.”

Shirley fits the category of “inexperienced traveler” perfectly and has a number of issues she wants to see addressed before she travels. Luckily, we are going to be looking at a number of those in our article next month. Yes, Shirley, there are travel professionals that have heard your concerns and have some answers for you and those like you.

CLICK HERE TO SUBSCRIBE

Make sure you’re subscribed to No Boundaries for Us to get each issue as soon as it’s published. Do you know a senior who would benefit from a subscription? Please drop them a note and suggest they subscribe. Never any spam and you can unsubscribe any time with one click.

Wooster, Ohio: A Hidden Culinary Gem in the Heart of Amish Country

Nestled in the hills of Wayne County in the heart of Amish country, Wooster, Ohio's unique, European feel stems from the walkability of the city and is evident as soon as you set foot downtown. A conglomeration of eclectic culture, green living, youthful exuberance, hard work and raw talent has seen this already charming community climb to a whole new level in the culinary world. Local restaurateurs and chefs have flocked to the streets of Wooster lining them with cafes and eateries, each original from one another and bursting with its own vibrant flavor.

Local Roots, a co-op and community center that prides itself on organic groceries is the perfect example of why Wooster is on the forefront of the culinary arts and while it's hard to narrow down such an extensive list of spectacular restaurants, one can certainly try. Oak Grove Eatery, a gastropub making in-house ham, coffee and cognac is not far from the Broken Rocks Cafe, which offers an array of house made breads. The City Square Steak House has steak lovers swooning while Spoon Market, who coincidentally shares a space and sources from butchershop Louie's Local Meats, gives mouth-watering deli sandwiches a whole new meaning. Remarkably places like these just keep showing up, making it easy for Wooster to satiate even the most discerning palate.

And it's not just the food itself that makes this Wooster so appealing, it's the whole feel and atmosphere of these establishments. With one just as unique as the next, they're all interestingly original — Some like Umami Bites, which specializes in Asian to-go, have even embraced the food truck culture while the JAFB Brewing Company nails down the craft beer scene in a cool refabricated warehouse.

Of course if you want to go even deeper into Wayne County's Amish country there's Lehman's. What started as a small hardware store serving the local Amish in 1955 has morphed into an unbelievable, have to see to believe quarter-mile long shopping experience that now helps those who have gotten tired of a throwaway society, grow and prepare their own food. From handmade coffee mills and potato mashers to hand-cranked blenders and grain mills, Lehman's is the ultimate spot for the old school.

And last but not least, there's the famous Certified Angus Beef headquarters. Bringing in renowned chefs from all around the world, these professionals have taken beef to the next level through meticulous education, creativity and an obsession with flavor. Although not always open to the public, visitors are encouraged to visit their site and social media accounts to keep an eye out for tour opportunities.

"America" to sail in Spring 2016

August 7th, American Cruise Lines announced the successful launching of its newest paddlewheeler "America" three weeks ahead of schedule. "America" is being built for the Mississippi River at Chesapeake Shipbuilding in Salisbury, Maryland. The launching, which took place this morning, was picture perfect. Immediately after being launched seamlessly, tugboats skillfully nudged the new riverboat into Chesapeake Shipbuilding's East Outfitting Basin where the upper decks and outfitting will be completed.

The launching comes just a few weeks after the joining of the two hull sections. With the installation of the upper decks, the new riverboat will come together quickly, and upon completion will be the third new riverboat built for the Mississippi River by American Cruise Lines. Construction of the new "Queen of the Mississippi" is also underway and is slated for delivery in 2017.

The newest paddlewheeler "America", will have a capacity of 185 passengers and will introduce features never before seen on a riverboat. American built, American flagged and American crewed, this new vessel symbolizes the true all-American experience provided by American Cruise Lines. It is scheduled to begin navigating the Mississippi River and its tributaries next spring.

About American Cruise Lines:

American Cruise Lines is the largest U.S. cruise company and operates the newest fleet of riverboats and small cruise ships on more than 35 itineraries around the country including the Pacific Northwest, Alaska, New England, the Southeast and the entire Mississippi River system. The line is known for working closely with guests and travel agents before, during, and after a cruise to create a highly personalized experience. Long established and deeply experienced in cruise travel, American Cruise Lines has been honored with multiple awards, including Porthole Reader's Choice Awards in 2014, World Travel Awards "World's Leading River Cruise Company" in 2014, "Gold Award Winner" for Travel Weekly's 2014 Magellan Awards and a 2014 finalist for Condé Nast Traveler's Reader's Choice Awards. To learn more about American Cruise Lines, visit <http://www.americancruiselines.com> or call 800-814-6880.

England

Move over Blue Man Group - the hot new thing is Morphsuits

These are the astonishing kaleidoscopic images created by Morphsuit clad dancers who claim to have made the world's first human discoball. David Labanca and Gianmarco Pozzoli are part of the group Discoteque Machine and are appearing at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

The Italian duo used kaleidoscopic mirrors, and Morphsuits from British brand MorphCostumes, to wow an audience and promote their show at the city's Camera Obscura this morning.

They aim to incorporate a party atmosphere into sets, with audience members invited to dance on stage to music in fluorescent stations.

This is while the group - who will be performing at the Fringe this month at Zoo Southside - perform in their brightly-coloured outfits.

Pride of Britain Hotels welcomes two new members: Armathwaite Hall Hotel and Spa and Rockliffe Hall

Armathwaite Hall Hotel and Spa, Cumbria

Situated close to Keswick on the shores of Bassenthwaite Lake, in the beautiful Lake District, four-star Armathwaite Hall Hotel and Spa has 46 individually-designed bedrooms with lake, park or garden views. The former stately home is set in 400 acres of deer park and woodland and is framed by the dramatic Skiddaw mountains and Lake District fells. The hotel offers informal, contemporary dining in The Courtyard Bar and Brasserie as well as fine dining in the Lake View Restaurant, renowned for showcasing local seasonal produce. The serene spa boasts a thermal suite, 10 treatment rooms and scenic views from the infinity pool and outdoor hot tub. An overnight stay at Armathwaite Hall Hotel and Spa costs from £200 per room (two sharing), including full Cumbrian breakfast and use of the spa.

Rockliffe Hall, County Durham

Set within 375 acres on the banks of the River Tees, near the village of Hurworth, 18th-century red-brick mansion Rockliffe Hall has 61 elegant guest bedrooms, three restaurants and an award-winning spa. Spread over 50,000 square feet, the spa features eight thermal rooms and a 20-metre pool (complete with spa butlers to keep guests refreshed with champagne and freshly-squeezed juices). The five-star hotel's extensive grounds are home to an impressive championship golf course and a brand-new landscaped Spa Garden (opening 13 August), which features a hydrotherapy pool, Jacuzzi, decked lounging area, fire pit, water feature and sweeping views across the estate. An overnight stay at Rockliffe Hall costs from £220 per room (two sharing), including full English breakfast and use of the indoor spa.

Both luxury spa hotels have been through a rigorous vetting procedure prior to being accepted to ensure that all new members of the exclusive consortium provide the exceptional hospitality and high standards for which Pride of Britain Hotels is known. The addition of Armathwaite Hall Hotel and Spa and Rockliffe Hall takes the Pride of Britain collection to 46 member properties, close to the maximum of 50 allowed in its rules. All applications for membership are subject to an anonymous overnight inspection before being presented to all existing members for their vote.

Pride of Britain Hotels' website provides a constantly- updated list of late booking availability and special offers. To book an overnight stay, and for the best available price, call Pride of Britain Hotels on 0800 089 3929 (www.prideofbritainhotels.com).

Australia

Cumulus cows 290x150cm by Andrew Baines

The South Australian Living Artists Festival (SALA) is a visual arts festival like no other in the world.

Held annually in venues all over South Australia for the entirety of August, SALA's magnitude and reach, its extraordinary range of exhibition venues, both conventional and left-of-field, make it unique. SALA's high level of artistic participation, community engagement and its backing by businesses of all stripes are all part of this heady mix. Akin to artistic trifids, every year in the month of August, SALA exhibitions take over art – and other – spaces from Adelaide's CBD to the outreaches of rural South Australia.

Artworks in every conceivable medium are exhibited, and sometimes in unlikely media, too. In SALA 2014, two gargantuan installations of Elvis Presley went on show in the shop-front windows of the Adelaide Advertiser and Adelaide's Argo Café.

These figurative renderings, demonstrating that Elvis had definitely not "left the building", had been created by the exclusive use of thousands of coloured post-it-note stickers. Adelaide artist Theofania (aka Thea Fania) alternately describes her Elvises as urban guerrilla artwork or as "Elvis Pixel Post-it Note Art".

Read more at The Lede South Australia.

Starwood members take note of this new card

“Some nice benefits for SPG members. Even just the Wi-Fi accessibility might be enough reason to sign up.”

New benefits going live today include:

- No Foreign Transaction Fees - SPG Card Members can now enjoy international travel without foreign transaction fees from American Express when using their Card on purchases abroad.
- Complimentary, Unlimited Boingo Wi-Fi - SPG Card Members will enjoy complimentary, unlimited Wi-Fi access when they enroll in the Boingo American Express Preferred Plan. Receive Wi-Fi access on up to four devices to more than 1,000,000 hotspots worldwide and pay no Wi-Fi roaming fees.
- Complimentary Premium In-Room Internet Access - SPG Card Members won't miss a beat while away from family, friends, or the office with complimentary premium in-room internet access at SPG® Participating Hotels.
- Access to Sheraton Club Lounges for SPG American Express OPEN Card Members - Card Members with a SPG Business Credit Card feel like VIPs with access to Sheraton Club Lounges, which includes a complimentary daily breakfast, evening selection of premium beverages and hors d'oeuvres, and space for hosting a friend or colleague .

Would you travel with someone on your first date?

Travel is a major test for a relationship, and a sure way to determine compatibility between two people. The world's first travel dating website pulled exit poll data from members who claimed to have met their significant other on MissTravel, revealing the destinations that resulted in the most successful relationships.

According to results of the study, more people who visited Oranjestad, Aruba for their destination first date ended up in relationships. With gorgeous beaches and a relaxing ambiance, it's easy to see how sparks could fly while getting to know someone over a romantic weekend in Oranjestad. Surprisingly, Las Vegas, notoriously known as Sin City, was the second most visited destination by couples who stayed committed long term.

“There are certain personality traits you can't learn about a person just by going to dinner and a movie,” said Brandon Wade, founder and CEO of MissTravel.com. “Travel brings people out of their comfort zones allowing a genuine connection to form, which can reveal compatibility sooner than usual.”

The MissTravel app is now available for download on the Apple App Store and Google Play Store.

Won the lottery recently? Looking to get away?

Here's how the 1% get away . Now you can too...

Jumping the velvet rope in a Miami Beach nightclub is one thing – viewing Miami Beach from the luxurious penthouse of the Hilton-Bentley South Beach is another.

Many travelers vacation south for the winter to Miami Beach, home to numerous bars, lounges, hottest venues and vibrant night clubs, but many of the best luxurious are a bit more secluded than those decked out with neon signs. The Hilton-Bentley penthouse is definitely one of Miami Beach's best-kept secrets; yet, it is located in the center of it all.

A spiral staircase leads you to one of the most secluded gems on Miami Beach. The one of a kind panoramic view is by far one of the best features of the Penthouse Presidential Suite in the Hilton Bentley. Sink into the view in the private pool and whirl pool tub located on the rooftop. With panoramic ocean view throughout the entire dual-level presidential suite the luxury doesn't stop at the terrace – the 3,500 square-foot space centered by Miami Beach's hottest venues offers the ultimate South Beach experience.

Coveted by the most well-known celebrities, politicians, and athletes, each of the 2 king bedroom suites features marble bathrooms with whirlpool tubs, walk-in closets and private oceanfront terraces. A full kitchen, dining and living room, along with an extra half bath, will be having you calling this luxurious suite “home” as soon as picking up your room key from the Hilton's courteous and attentive staff.

The oceanfront presidential suite makes the perfect start and finish to a weekend getaway. Whether the suite, located right above the beach, is the fulcrum of your vacation or just a place to rest after a day full of the activities Miami has to offer – the presidential suite offers an opportunity you do not want to miss.

If you haven't ridden the bus lately, check this out

According to recent data from Chaddick Institute for Metropolitan Development at DePaul, the trend of doing quick trips via intercity bus is on the rise, with more than 1.14 million passengers expected to travel on intercity buses over Labor Day weekend. This is up five percent compared to this time last year and Greyhound is prepared to accommodate the high demand for last-minute getaways.

Most of Greyhound's passengers tend to take trips that are 6 hours or less — the ideal time for a quick getaway — and average about only $50 per roundtrip ticket. For those who have experienced their new “Greyhound Express” service, which are non-stop or limited-stop routes between major cities, many fares are as low as $1.

The company's recent investments to improve travelers' experiences while remaining more affordable than driving or flying has enabled the 100-year-old brand to reach new audience appeal. Below is a list of premium amenities that can be found on all 1,200 coaches in their fleet, which have resulted in an impressive 20 percent increase in overall ridership since 2010.

- Free Wi-fi and Power Outlet: At every seat, travelers can stay connected throughout their ride.

- Leather Seats: Offering a new premium experience, all coaches feature leather seats.

- Extra Legroom: Greyhound removed an entire row of seats, increasing legroom by a full 3 inches.

- BusTracker GPS: Greyhound recently launched BusTracker, a new GPS tool that tracks all 1,200 buses in Greyhound's fleet. BusTracker enables customers — and their friends or family responsible for pick-up or drop-off — to know if the bus is early, on time or delayed. Customers can access this feature from the homepage carousel of Greyhound.com, or if using a smartphone, the feature is available on Greyhound's app.

- Spotify Partnership: Launched a crowd-sourced Spotify channel featuring “Ultimate Road Trip” songs so that travelers who are Spotify users have the perfect playlist ready to go.

Uh, oh! What if I need a doctor while traveling?

63% of travelers have reported that either they, or someone they've been traveling with, has gotten sick while on vacation, according to the Rx for Travel Health national survey.

That's why Doctor On Demand, the leading video medicine provider, founded by Dr. Phil, Jay McGraw and Adam Jackson, which provides Video Visits with board-certified physicians on your smartphone for immediate medical service, is the perfect travel companion when you hit the road this travel season.

Here are some questions I came up with and their answers:

How much does a video visit with Doctor On Demand cost?

- Medical Visits: $40 / 15 minute visit
- Psychology Visits: $50 /25 minute session; $95 / 50 minute session
- Lactation Consulting: $40 / 25 minute session; $70 / 50 minute session

Is Doctor On Demand covered by health insurance?

Yes. Doctor On Demand is now an in-network provider group for UnitedHealthcare members. Video Visits are available to select UnitedHealthcare self-funded customers in 2015, and will expand to most UnitedHealthcare commercial members in 2016. Member co-pays for virtual visits will be equal to or less than office visits, depending on the benefit plan. If a plan or provider does not cover Doctor On Demand, a patient is able to pay the $40 fee through their FSAs or HSAs.

Where is the service available?

Doctor On Demand's medical service is available in 47 states. Currently unavailable in Arkansas, Louisiana, and Alaska.

Doctor On Demand's psychology and lactation consulting offerings are available across the US.

Is Doctor On Demand available at any time of day?

Doctors are available from 7am to 11pm EST, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

Can the doctors prescribe medication?

Yes, our physicians are able to prescribe a wide range of prescription drugs, which can be useful for infections, allergies, skin conditions, travel or sports injuries. We do not prescribe narcotics or pain medications, that have been designated as U.S. Controlled substances as a Schedule I, II, III or IV drug.

Some of the most common use cases include:

1. Cold & Flu
2. Bronchitis & Sinus Infection
3. Pediatric Issues
4. UTIs & Yeast Infections
5. Eye Issues
6. Rashes & Skin Issues
7. Upset Stomach
8. Asthma & Allergies
9. Sports Injuries
10. Prescription Refills

Watch video introduction ..... 0:46

Kickstarters with potential

Safety comes first to LIVALL! BLING HELMET= Windbreak Mic + Bluetooth Speaker+3-Axis G-Sensor + LED

A safer & smarter way to use maps, listen to music, call, text or access infotainment in your car.

Personal full carbon smart drone ERIDA

Build a personal "cloud" with USB hard drive to backup the files and photos for your smart phone

That's all Folks!

Hope you enjoyed the new format and we'd love to hear some feedback. We really want this to be something you look forward to each month, so please let us know what we can do to improve.

Send comments to NB4U@dougardwell.com

If you can't wait for the next issue (???) you can find more of our travel, reviews and general ramblings here:

Our Blog	DougBardwell.com
Twitter	http://twitter.com/photodb
Facebook	https://www.facebook.com/bardwellwrites
Google Plus	http://dbhas.info/DBgplus

Please consider forwarding this issue to a friend if you think they might find it useful, and suggest they subscribe. We guarantee to never spam them.

Don't miss a single issue!

